playgrounds, but they just don't have the resources to locate the grants and apply for them," said BCI Burke Chief Executive Officer Tim Ahem.

"The writing of grant applications is highly specialized, so having an experienced professional available can sometimes dramatically improve the likelihood of obtaining the needed grant. Yet, many don't even know where to start in locating and retaining a grant writer. We hope this will make it easier for organizations to get the playgrounds they need and their children deserve," said Ahem.

The program includes federal, state and private foundation grants that are available to schools and non-profit organizations, including those with religious affiliations. The services are available to organizations in eight categories: after-school; at risk/character; community involvement/volunteerism; early childhood; general education; health/physical education; family service, and facilities/maintenance.

The Grant Resource Center will offer free grant searches. Grant writing will be available for modest fees beginning at $500. Information about the new service, as well as a list of fees for writing grants of various sizes, is available on the BCI Burke web site at <http://www.bci Burke.com/grants>.
